

A trip to Dollar Tree!

When I have no money to spend and want a "pick me up" I go to Dollar Tree! Sounds like an ad but it is true!

I had to get some items for my mother's Birthday party and decided to visit Dollar Tree because everything there is a dollar. Sometimes you come out really good "money wise" but you have to know what is a bargain and what seems like a bargain.

The first thing we saw were items for Spring and gardening and it put me in a great mood. I splurged and bought some solar flowers to put where the daffodils used to come up. I also bought a wind flower that rotates when the wind is blowing. I stuck it in a pot we could see from the window and it has been happy spinning ever since. It is amazing what little things can do. I think Spring will be here soon.

Till Spring arrives I am spending my time quilting and sewing!
